TAX WAR IS LIVELY

Between the City and the County Supervisors.

TWO REPORTS SUBMITTED

They Were Made a Special Order for Today-The Salary Committee's Report Also Tabled.

The fight over the apportioning of taxes between the country and the city did not materialize yesterday, but majority and minority reports were submitted by the committee on equalization, and both reports were printed and made a special order for today. One report gives the city 64 per cent and the townships 354 per cent, while the other report makes the division 64 and 36 per cent. There will be a lively time over these reports at 10 o'clock today. At the session yesterday the special committee on salaries reported a scale of wages for the register's office, the treasurer's office and the county clerk's office. It also recommended the creation of a new clerk, known as a lee clerk. There was some doubt as to the right of the board to create such a clerkship. The wages reported are as follows:

The Salary List, Register of deeds, one abstract clerk at $1,200 per year; bookkeeper, $9 per week; index clerk, $13 per week; copyist for abstracts, $9 per week. Five recording clerks, to be graded as follows: For the first turee months, 86 per week; for the next nine months, $7 per week, and after one year $8 per week.

For the office of treasurer: One chief clerk at $1,000 per year; one clerk at $600 per year, one fee clerk at $1,000 per year.

For the office of county clerk: Two court or chief deputies at $1,200 per year each, three office deputies at $900 per year each. One vault clerk at $8 per week. In regard to the abstract derk in the register's office it is argued that the best of services must be had in order to make this branch pay what it should and in order that the county may give the public as good service in furnishing abstracts as is possible the committee asked that the board should take every precaution to keep the abstract books in the best possible manner and that good salaries should be paid. The county officer who receives fees will be required to fill out a sworn statement of the receipts of the respective offices for each day and submit them to the fee clerk who shall properly enter the same in a book provided. The fee clerk will be general assistant in the treasurers office when not working on the fee accounts. The officers that receive fees must give bonds for the custody of these fees that come into their bands.

The report was made a special order for today.

Township Registrations Unnecessary, Prosecuting Attorney McKnight reregistration is not necessary. He said a law was passed in 1882 requiring a registration that year and every ten years thereafter but in 1883 the law was amended so that a registration is not necessary in the townships.

In regard to the matter of wares Mr. Gill said there ought to be an increase in the salaries of the girls in the register's office. He thought it difficult for per week. He saw no reason why ome clerks should have from $10 515 per week while others who worked equally hard should receive but a pittance. He promises to make a lively plea for an increase in the salaries of the copying clerks when the matter comes up today.

The committee on equalization submitted a majority report which was made a special order for today and was ordered printed.
